forests

IMPACT FACTOR 1.951

Dear Colleagues,

We are pleased to announce the initiation of the annual Forests Awards.

Two Travel Awards for postdocs or PhD students consisting of CHF 800 / USD 850 / EUR 700 each will be awarded to attend forestry related conferences.

Eligibility:
The candidate must be enrolled as a full-time PhD student or a post-doctoral researcher (10 years or less since completing their PhD).

The candidate must be registered to attend and present an oral talk or poster at an international forestry conference/congress (e.g., IUFRO, Soil Science Society of America, Society of American Foresters...)

Editor-in-Chief,
Prof. Dr. Timothy A. Martin

2018 TRAVEL AWARDS

FOR POSTDOCS OR PHD STUDENTS

Candidates' Requirements:

a. Submit a resume/CV
b. The nominee should include a brief summary (one page) of their research interests, accomplishments, and expected benefits from attending the conference/congress
c. A letter of support from their supervisor and should include:
   — Confirmation that the nominee is a PhD or post-doctoral student, describe the overall strengths of the candidate and eligibility for the travel award; and confirm that they will present an oral talk/poster at the conference.
   — Relevance and expected benefits of the nominee's attendance at the conference.

Please send your applications including all the above as a PDF file to the Forests Editorial Office at forests@mdpi.com by 31 December 2017. The Awards will be assessed by an Evaluation Committee and granted by the end of February 2017.

MDPI
Academic Open Access Publishing
since 1996

Forests Editorial Office
St. Alban-Anlage 66
CH-4052, Basel, Switzerland
forests@mdpi.com
www.mdpi.com/journal/forests
Twitter: @Forests_MDPI