Message from the Editor-in-Chief

You are invited to contribute original research or review articles for consideration and publication in Zoonotic Diseases (ISSN 2813-0227). Zoonotic Diseases is an open access journal and intends to provide a forum for research on global zoonotic diseases, allowing the scientific community to publish manuscripts regarding any fundamental or applied aspects of zoonotic diseases. We are pleased to welcome you as our authors.

Editor-in-Chief

Prof. Dr. Stephen K. Wikel

Aims

Zoonotic Diseases (ISSN 2813-0227) is an international, multidisciplinary, scholarly, peer-reviewed, open access journal that publishes high-quality original research, review articles, brief reports, and perspectives offering new insights into any aspect of zoonoses. Zoonotic diseases are infections that are shared in nature between humans and other vertebrate animal species. Zoonotic pathogens include an array of bacteria, viruses, parasites, arthropod vectors, and prions infecting diverse species, including companion (pets, service) animals, livestock, and wildlife. Zoonoses are global threats to human and animal health security. Zoonotic Diseases intends to provide a forum for research on global zoonotic diseases, allowing the scientific community to publish manuscripts regarding any fundamental or applied aspects of zoonotic diseases.

Our aim is to encourage the publication of experimental and theoretical results in as much detail as possible. Full details of experimental procedures must be provided so that the results can be reproduced. There is no limitation on the maximum length of articles submitted to this journal.
