Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The Journal of Intelligence is a relatively new and ambitious journal devoted to the study of human intelligence. Intelligence is a remarkable and highly intriguing phenomenon, and a core feature of our being human. Understanding our intelligence is a major part of understanding ourselves. Human intelligence is studied from many perspectives and for different purposes. The journal has an open policy with respect to approaches and methodologies. We encourage submissions with the potential to innovate and to show alternative perspectives. Studies on other types of intelligence will be considered as far as they help us understand human intelligence.

Editor-in-Chief

Prof. Dr. Andrew R. A. Conway

Aims

The aim of the journal is to move forward the study of human intelligence. The journal will publish original empirical and theoretical articles, state-of-the-art articles and critical reviews, case studies, original short notes, commentaries, and letters. Unless specified differently, for example for a Special Issue, there is no restriction on the maximum length of the papers.
