Message from the Guest Editors

Although not limited to only these topics, we call for articles addressing:

- Cross cultural and global perspectives of leadership and sustainability and the emergence of leadership and sustainability in developing countries and the role of sociocultural forces in different contexts.
- Multi-level analysis of sustainable leadership (individual, organizational, industry, community, global).
- Long-term impact assessment of sustainable leadership initiatives.
- Leadership and sustainability in non-corporate settings (e.g., non-profits, government, academia).
- Technology and innovation to support and develop leadership and sustainability for a better future.
- Corporate social responsibility and sustainable leadership.
- Challenges and barriers to future leaders of sustainability.
- Challenges and role of small and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs) in sustainable development.
- Entrepreneurial leadership and sustainable development.
- Sustainability strategies, governance, policy-making, and effective practices.
- Globalisation, multinational companies and sustainable planning and implementation of sustainable policy.
