Message from the Guest Editor

Dear Colleagues,

There is growing interest, from both scholars and practitioner communities, in understanding how to deploy HRM practices in order to achieve strategic goals. We focus on the perceptions and understanding of different actors within the organization and how these help explain the relationship between HRM and organizational performance. Towards that objective, we are calling for papers that consider a range of performance outcomes, and encourage submissions focusing on perceptions and understanding of HRM, as delivered through a range of stakeholders, including the employee, HR professionals, and senior and line managers. Submissions emphasizing contextual factors, such as country, industry, and profession, are welcomed.

You are invited to contribute a research article or a comprehensive review for publication after successful peerreview processing in Administrative Sciences. Administrative Sciences is a multidisciplinary journal for the broad field of organization studies. It publishes research articles, reviews and other content, in open access format, released on the internet immediately after acceptance. As an open access journal, we believe that academic knowledge should be available to all, for free, so that others can build upon the knowledge shared. Open availability will encourage a stronger evidence-based management practice. The scientific community and the public have unlimited, free access to the content as soon as it is published. We would be pleased to welcome you as one of our authors. We also invite you to offer any proposals for Special Issue topics that you feel would be of interest.
