

We are pleased to announce the initiation of the annual Forests Awards.

Two Travel Awards for postdocs or PhD students consisting of CHF 800 / USD 850 / EUR 700 each will be awarded to attend forestry related conferences.

2017 TRAVEL AWARDS

FOR POSTDOCS AND PHD STUDENTS

Eligibility:

- The candidate must be enrolled as a full-time PhD student or a post-doctoral researcher (10 years or less since earning the PhD).
- The candidate must be registered to attend and present an oral talk or poster at an international forestry conference/congress (e.g., IUFRO, Soil Science Society of America, Society of American Foresters...)

Candidates' Requirements:

- Submit a resume/CV
- The nominee should include a brief summary (one page) of their research interests, accomplishments, and expected benefits from attending the conference/congress
- A letter of support from their supervisor is required and should include:
 - Confirmation that the nominee is a PhD or post-doctoral student, describe the overall strengths of the candidate and eligibility for the travel award; and confirm that they will present an oral talk/poster at the conference.
 - Relevance and expected benefits of the nominee's attendance at the conference.
- The entire application package should be submitted as a PDF file.

Please send your applications for these awards to the Forests Editorial Office at forests@mdpi.com by 31 October 2016. The Awards will be granted by the end of January 2017.