Message from the Guest Editors

The main goal of the “Health and Well-Being in Vulnerable Communities” Special Issue is to create a platform for researchers to showcase the newest results of research into physical, mental and social health of different vulnerable communities. As such, the Special Issue will not only focus on gathering research but also on voicing the need for action in improving the conditions for vulnerable communities. Therefore, we would like to invite you to submit original research articles, systematic reviews, pilot project results and intervention studies, as well as policy papers, focusing on all aspects of health and well-being of vulnerable communities.

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Addressing the environmental and public health challenges requires engagement and collaboration among clinicians and public health researchers. Discovery and advances in this research field play a critical role in providing a scientific basis for decision-making toward control and prevention of human diseases, especially the illnesses that are induced from environmental exposure to health hazards. IJERPH provides a forum for discussion of discoveries and knowledge in these multidisciplinary fields. Please consider publishing your research in this high quality, peer-reviewed, open access journal.
