Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue will cover a selection of recent research topics and current review articles, reporting on the latest updates in the molecular mechanisms underlying the pathophysiological modifications in brain injury and neurodegeneration.

We will focus on the new perspectives regarding the pathological mechanisms and their interactions in the manifestation of various “classical” neuropsychiatric diseases, while considering relevant reports regarding less-studied or less-common neurodegenerative diseases, such as (but not limited to) motor neuron disease, sclerosis diseases, brain atrophy and atypical dementias.

Moreover, we want to bring additional evidence of the between-neurodegeneration, neuroinflammation and oxidative stress from various perspectives, and to improve understanding of the molecular mechanisms underlying common, yet untreatable neurodegenerative diseases, as well as also rare neurodegenerative disorders of which the pathomechanisms are not understood to date.

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The International Journal of Molecular Sciences (IJMS, ISSN 1422-0067) is an open access journal, which was established in 2000. The journal aims to provide a forum for scholarly research on a range of topics, including biochemistry, molecular and cell biology, molecular biophysics, molecular medicine, and all aspects of molecular research in chemistry. IJMS publishes both original research and review articles, and regularly publishes special issues to highlight advances at the cutting edge of research. We invite you to read recent articles published in IJMS and consider publishing your next paper with us.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, MEDLINE, Embase, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q1 (Biochemistry & Molecular Biology) / CiteScore - Q1 (Inorganic Chemistry)
