Message from the Guest Editors

In the past few years, there have been considerable developments in the field of oral biology, biochemistry, tissue engineering, bone regeneration and oral rehabilitation, with the utilization of various biomaterials.

Therefore, with this Special Issue, we would like to encourage the submission of scientific articles that analyze the intra-individual bacterial transmission that characterizes the gingival and subgingival microbiomes during bone and tissue regeneration procedures in oral surgery, implantology and periodontology, as well as alterations in the oral microbiota following inflammatory states.

This Special Issue will provide an excellent forum to bring together different communities and publish research of a high caliber, which will be beneficial to healthcare. For this purpose, we invite you to submit original research articles, clinical articles, and reviews regarding any of the topics mentioned above.

The International Journal of Molecular Sciences (IJMS, ISSN 1422-0067) is an open access journal, which was established in 2000. The journal aims to provide a forum for scholarly research on a range of topics, including biochemistry, molecular and cell biology, molecular biophysics, molecular medicine, and all aspects of molecular research in chemistry. IJMS publishes both original research and review articles, and regularly publishes special issues to highlight advances at the cutting edge of research. We invite you to read recent articles published in IJMS and consider publishing your next paper with us.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, MEDLINE, Embase, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q1 (Biochemistry & Molecular Biology) / CiteScore - Q1 (Inorganic Chemistry)
