Message from the Guest Editor

Dear Colleagues,

The aim of this Special Issue is to collect molecular materials based on self-assembly approach. Furthermore, ultimate goal of the supramolecular chemists is to constructing macromolecular and supramolecular molecular nano-objects architectures with precise arrangement of multiple chromophores into functional nanosized structure utilising small organic molecules via bottom-up approach for advancing optoelectronic devices, sensors, catalysis, etc.

We invite contributions of reviews and/or original papers reporting recent efforts in the field Supramolecular Functional Materials to this special issue.

The International Journal of Molecular Sciences (IJMS, ISSN 1422-0067) is an open access journal, which was established in 2000. The journal aims to provide a forum for scholarly research on a range of topics, including biochemistry, molecular and cell biology, molecular biophysics, molecular medicine, and all aspects of molecular research in chemistry. IJMS publishes both original research and review articles, and regularly publishes special issues to highlight advances at the cutting edge of research. We invite you to read recent articles published in IJMS and consider publishing your next paper with us.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, MEDLINE, Embase, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q1 (Biochemistry & Molecular Biology) / CiteScore - Q1 (Inorganic Chemistry)
