Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

This regional Special Issue focuses on the frontiers of inorganic chemistry in Germany. Colleagues are invited to submit original articles, communications, and critical reviews. We welcome submissions that are within the scope of inorganic chemistry research.

Topics include but are not limited to the following research areas:

- Coordination chemistry;
- Organometallic chemistry;
- Bioinorganic chemistry;
- Solid-state chemistry;
- Inorganic materials;
- MOFs (metal–organic frameworks);
- Energy;
- Catalysis (including photo- and electro-catalysis).

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Inorganic chemistry remains a lynchpin of modern chemistry, not only embracing the function and reactivity of combinations of most elements of the periodic table, but also providing a footing for studies of materials, catalysts, drugs, fuels and industrial chemicals. Arguably, the role and reach of inorganics in society have never been as great as today. Adventurous research at the heart and at the extremes of inorganic chemistry is vital to further advances and Inorganics offers authors the opportunity to publish exciting new research in an open access format.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q2 (Chemistry, Inorganic and Nuclear) / CiteScore - Q2 (Inorganic Chemistry)
