Message from the Guest Editor

Dear Colleagues,

Manuscripts are now being considered for possible publication in a Special Issue of the Journal of Intelligence (http://www.mdpi.com/journal/jintelligence) under the theme of "Intelligence in the Workplace". Included will be research reports and review papers dealing with various aspects of intelligence, such as intelligence testing as a predictor of job performance, controversies of intelligence testing as a selection measure, and personality and intelligence correlates with job preferences. Deadline for submission is 30 November 2016
