Dr. María Pérez-Cadenas

Department of Inorganic and Technical Chemistry, National Distance Education University (UNED), Madrid, Spain

Deadline for manuscript submissions:

21 July 2024

Message from the Guest Editors

The current Special Issue focuses on the novel developments in advanced carbon materials research, seeking to improve energy storage device performance and electro catalysis.

It is our pleasure to invite you to submit a manuscript for this Special Issue. Full papers, short communications, and reviews are welcome

Potential topics of the issue include but are not limited to the following:

- The future of energy storage devices;
- Electrochemical energy conversion and storage;
- New electrode materials for energy storage;
- The supercapacitor and its applications;
- Challenge of energy storage devices;
- Electrocatalysis;
- Oxygen electro-reduction (OER);
- Hydrogen evolution reaction (HER);
- CO₂ electro-reduction;
- Electro-Fenton processes.

Materials (ISSN 1996-1944) was launched in 2008. The iournal covers twenty-five comprehensive biomaterials, energy materials, advanced composites. advanced materials characterization, porous materials, manufacturing processes and systems. nanomaterials and nanotechnology, smart materials, thin films and interfaces, catalytic materials, carbon materials, materials chemistry, materials physics, optics and photonics, corrosion, construction and building materials. materials simulation and design, electronic materials, advanced and functional ceramics and glasses, metals and alloys, soft matter, polymeric materials, quantum materials, mechanics of materials, green materials, general. Materials provides a unique opportunity to contribute high quality articles and to take advantage of its large readership.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, Ei Compendex, CaPlus / SciFinder, Inspec, Astrophysics Data System, and other databases
