Message from the Guest Editors

Over the last two decades, particular interest in using state-of-the-art emerging technologies for inspection, assessment, and management of civil infrastructure has significantly increased. Advanced technologies such as laser scanning and photogrammetry have become suitable alternatives for labor-intensive, expensive, and unsafe traditional inspection and maintenance methods, which encourage the increased use of these methods in civil infrastructure asset management especially bridge monitoring.

This Special Issue invites contributions to showcase various applications of remote sensing in health monitoring, computer modeling, assessment, and management of bridges in different phases of fabrication, construction, operation, and maintenance.

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Remote Sensing is now a prominent international journal of repute in the world of remote sensing and spatial sciences, as a pioneer and pathfinder in open access format. It has highly accomplished global remote sensing scientists on the editorial board and a dedicated team of associate editors. The journal emphasizes quality and novelty and has a rigorous peer-review process. It is now one of the top remote sensing journals with a significant Impact Factor, and a goal to become the best journal in remote sensing in the coming years. I strongly recommend Remote Sensing for your best research publications for a fast dissemination of your research.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), Ei Compendex, PubAg, GeoRef, Astrophysics Data System, Inspec, dblp, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q1 (Geosciences, Multidisciplinary) / CiteScore - Q1 (General Earth and Planetary Sciences)
