Dear Colleagues,

I am pleased to announce the winner of the inaugural Risks Travel Award, given to one outstanding post-doctoral researcher. We have selected Dr. H  lo  se Labit Hardy from UNSW Australia as this year's recipient.

Dr. Hardy works on longevity insurance and mortality modeling, more specifically on mortality heterogeneity, cause-of-death mortality and population models. She will present her research at the 31st International Congress of Actuaries in 2018 in Berlin.

Congratulations to Dr. Hardy and thanks to all who applied.
