Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

The goal of this Special Issue is to draw up an overview of emerging trends, methods, and tools in safety engineering, which can allow researchers and practitioners to exchange information and ideas on occupational health and safety, providing both an analysis of the status quo as well as future perspectives and directions.

Accordingly, original research articles and reviews dealing with different industrial contexts, such as manufacturing, construction, agriculture, transportation, etc., are welcome in this Special Issue. Research areas may include (but are not limited to) the following topics affecting OHS (in alphabetical order):

- Design for safety/prevention through design;
- Digitalization and smart technologies;
- Education and training;
- Ergonomics and human factors;
- Human–machinery interaction;
- Innovative safety devices;
- [...]
