Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

The idea of the Multiverse, as a collection of possible universes, has entered the area of physics and cosmology for good. Max Tegmark distinguished four levels of this very notion, starting from a collection of standard inflationary patches of space-time to finally defining it as a collection of all possible mathematical entities. The term 'Multiverse' was first suggested by a philosopher—William James—who said ''Visible nature is all plasticity and indifference, A MULTIVERSE, as one might call it, and not a universe'' (''Is life worth living?'', International Journal of Ethics 6, 10 (1895)). Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The multidisciplinary Universe journal is aiming to follow and, hopefully, to lead to the largest extent as possible the ever-self renovating threads which weave mathematical theories with our understanding of the magnificent natural world. On behalf of all the distinguished members of the editorial board, I extend my welcome to this new journal and look forward to hearing from the interested contributors and learning about their valuable research.
