Message from the Guest Editor

In this Special Issue, we aim to improve scientific understanding of sustainable agriculture, agri-food innovation, and future foods by a systematic review and related empirical studies, as well as propose corresponding recommendations on policy design and development strategies.

Topics of interest for submission not limited to:

1. Agricultural sustainability, green agriculture, agricultural technology innovation;
2. Precision farming, smart farming, and digital agriculture;
3. Agri-food innovation, biofortified crops, cultured meat, algae, insects etc.
