Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

This Special Issue aims to inform the scientific community of recent research on the advances and innovations related to improving the efficiency of growth and nutrient utilization in animals, from the embryonic state to birth and finalization, with the aim of obtaining a greater quantity and quality of products of animal origin.

We invite you to send original manuscripts or reviews in fields related to the main topic of this Special Issue. Research areas may include (but are not limited to) the following:

- Animal nutrition.
- Growth physiology.
- Nutrition and embryonic development.
- Diets and ruminal microbiology.
- Diets and nutrient absorption.
- Growth stimulants.

We look forward to receiving your contributions.
