Message from the Guest Editor

In the field of infrastructure engineering, bridges are critical for transportation and urban development. However, with age and exposure to environmental factors, their maintenance and monitoring become complex. Intelligent technologies, such as advanced sensor systems, artificial intelligence (AI), machine learning, and big data analytics, offer innovative solutions for these challenges. These technologies facilitate real-time data collection, predictive maintenance, and informed decision-making, enhancing bridge longevity and reliability while mitigating failure risks.

We invite authors to contribute to our Special Issue with insights, studies, and innovations in intelligent bridge maintenance and monitoring. Submissions may address topics including:

- New Sensor Technology
- AI Algorithm for Bridge Health Monitoring
- Automated Inspection Techniques
- Advanced Materials for Bridge Repair and Reinforcement

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

As the world of science becomes ever more specialized, researchers may lose themselves in the deep forest of the ever increasing number of subfields being created. This open access journal Applied Sciences has been started to link these subfields, so researchers can cut through the forest and see the surrounding, or quite distant fields and subfields to help develop his/her own research even further with the aid of this multi-dimensional network.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), Inspec, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q1 (Engineering, Multidisciplinary) / CiteScore - Q1 (General Engineering)
