Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

The worldwide shift to sustainable energy solutions is experiencing unparalleled momentum. As part of these solutions, hydrogen-based technologies, such as fuel cells, have been attracting increasing attention.

This Special Issue welcomes high-quality contributions from researchers in the areas of novel materials development, advanced component design and manufacturing, scale-up studies, characterization and degradation mitigation for all types of fuel cells. Case studies of conventional and advanced applications of fuel cells in, for example, drones, robotics, aviation and any other specific application are especially encouraged.

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

As the world of science becomes ever more specialized, researchers may lose themselves in the deep forest of the ever increasing number of subfields being created. This open access journal Applied Sciences has been started to link these subfields, so researchers can cut through the forest and see the surrounding, or quite distant fields and subfields to help develop his/her own research even further with the aid of this multi-dimensional network.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), Inspec, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q1 (Engineering, Multidisciplinary) / CiteScore - Q1 (General Engineering)
