Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

The Special Issue entitled "Effective Microorganisms in Food Processing"

- will present problems on the border of natural, biotechnology, medical, and health sciences
- will give information about the sustainable development of the economy
- will give a message that should be left for future generations of scientists
- will adopted towards the problems affecting humanity, which are the search for safe sources of raw materials for food processing, safe food additives, ensuring the raising of quality standards and strategies for their food security, and minimizing the negative impact of the food processing industry on the environment

We invite you to send us your works in the hope that this Special Issue will become an incentive for further efforts to develop human ecology and protect the natural environment.

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

As the world of science becomes ever more specialized, researchers may lose themselves in the deep forest of the ever increasing number of subfields being created. This open access journal Applied Sciences has been started to link these subfields, so researchers can cut through the forest and see the surrounding, or quite distant fields and subfields to help develop his/her own research even further with the aid of this multi-dimensional network.
