The aim of this Special Issue is to discuss the general theory of dynamical systems as well as their applications. The widespread interest in this area of research arises mainly from its direct impact to many real-life models. The aim is to cover theoretical, numerical, and computational analysis of dynamical systems and their multidisciplinary applications.

Topics of interest include but are not limited to:

- Global attractivity and stability;
- Random dynamical systems;
- Complex dynamics;
- Numerical approximation;
- Equations and inequalities;
- Dynamical systems on time scales;
- Fractional dynamical systems;
- Applications in economics, physics, and other disciplines.

Axioms is dedicated to the foundations (structure and axiomatic basis, in particular) of mathematical theories, not only from a crisp or strictly classical sense, but also from a fuzzy and generalized sense. This includes the more innovative current scientific trends, devoted to discover and solve new challenging problems. The prime goal of Axioms is to publish first-class, original research articles under an open access policy with minimal fees for the authors. We would be pleased to welcome you as one of our authors.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges \(APC\) paid by authors or their institutions.

High visibility: indexed within SCIE \(Web of Science\), dblp, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q1 (Mathematics, Applied)

Rapid Publication: manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 21 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 3.4 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2024).
