Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

In this Special Issue, we aim to feature early-career researchers in immunology. The senior author(s) of each contribution should be (a) the first or last author as well as the corresponding author and (b) within 10 years of completing their Ph.D. (or equivalent) or becoming an assistant professor/on the tenure track. We invite submissions from diverse research fields. Articles submitted for this Special Issue should meet all standard requirements of individual Biology articles (regarding quality, novelty, and significance) and be relevant to a broad international and interdisciplinary readership.

Authors contributing to this Special Issue will have the opportunity to be nominated for next year's Young Investigator Award.

Message from the Editorial Board

A major strength of biological science is the diversity of approaches that biological scientists apply to their research problems. Biology reflects this diversity and brings together studies employing the varied experimental and theoretical approaches that are fueling biological discovery. Biology, the journal, is a fully peer-reviewed publication with a rapid and economical route to open access publication and is listed on PubMed. All articles are peer-reviewed and the editorial focus is on determining that the work is scientifically sound rather than trying to predict its future impact.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, PubAg, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q1 (Biology) / CiteScore - Q1 (General Agricultural and Biological Sciences)
