Message from the Guest Editor

RNA therapeutics is one of the most rapidly expanding new drug technology platforms, showcasing very promising potential for a broad and increasing variety of indications. This is not least due to a simple generic, rational drug design for indications where a genetic cause has been established and characterized at the sequence level. RNA therapeutics is a broad field covering drugs based on nucleic acids and their analogues and derivatives targeting specific functional RNAs or DNA in the cell based on sequence-specific nucleic acid recognition, or by employing functional nucleic acids (e.g. mRNA or tRNA) as drugs themselves. Historically, the field dates back more than 30 years to when small synthetic antisense

Message from the Editorial Board

Biomolecules is a multidisciplinary open-access journal that reports on all aspects of research related to biogenic substances, from small molecules to complex polymers. We invite manuscripts of high scientific quality that pertain to the diverse aspects relevant to organic molecules, irrespective of the biological question or methodology. We aim for a competent, fair peer review and rapid publication. Please look at some of the exciting work that has been published in Biomolecules so far. We would be delighted to welcome you as one of our authors.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, MEDLINE, PMC, Embase, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q1 (Biochemistry and Molecular Biology) / CiteScore - Q1 (Biochemistry)
