Message from the Guest Editors

We are pleased to invite authors to contribute with reviews of the literature and other original clinical research on all these topics, especially on the use of allo-HSCT against chemorefractory high-risk AML, on the prevention of relapse after transplantation and the treatment of steroid-refractory GVHD. Biological studies regarding the reconstitution of the immune system following allo-HSCT, the mechanisms of persistence of leukemic stem cells (LSC), and the mechanisms of GVHD resistance to treatment are also welcome.
