Message from the Guest Editor

Announcing the call for submissions to a Special Issue of Cancers focused on "Epigenetic Regulation in Hematologic Malignancies." Epigenetic mechanisms play a crucial role in the development, progression, and treatment response of hematologic malignancies. This Special Issue aims to provide a comprehensive overview of current research and advancements in the field. We invite original research articles and reviews covering topics such as epigenetic alterations, interplay with the tumor microenvironment, non-coding RNAs, immune responses, and therapeutic targeting. Submitted articles will undergo rigorous peer review. We encourage contributions from researchers, clinicians, and experts in the field. By consolidating research findings, this Special Issue aims to deepen our understanding and facilitate the development of innovative therapeutic strategies. Contact us for more information or assistance. We eagerly await your valuable submissions.

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Cancers is an international online journal addressing both clinical and basic science issues related to cancer research. The journal is publishing in Open Access format, which will certainly evolve to ensure that the journal takes full advantage of the rapidly changing world of information and knowledge dissemination. It publishes high-quality clinical, translational, and basic science research on cancer prevention, initiation, progression, and treatment, as well as other related topics, particularly to capture the most seminal studies in the rapidly growing area of immunology, immunotherapy, and tumor microenvironment.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, Embase, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q1 (Oncology) / CiteScore - Q1 (Oncology)
