Message from the Guest Editor

Dear Colleagues,

The treatment landscape of neuroendocrine neoplasms continues to evolve with novel targeted drugs, radioligands, and immune therapies. This Special Issue aims to explore the role of chemotherapy, liver-directed treatment, targeted therapy, immune therapy, and peptide receptor radionuclide therapy, as well as the interaction between these treatments. The implications of new molecular findings will also be explored in this Special Issue.

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Cancers is an international online journal addressing both clinical and basic science issues related to cancer research. The journal is publishing in Open Access format, which will certainly evolve to ensure that the journal takes full advantage of the rapidly changing world of information and knowledge dissemination. It publishes high-quality clinical, translational, and basic science research on cancer prevention, initiation, progression, and treatment, as well as other related topics, particularly to capture the most seminal studies in the rapidly growing area of immunology, immunotherapy, and tumor microenvironment.

Author Benefits
