Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

The year 2021 marks the 10th anniversary of publication of Cells. We are delighted and proud to celebrate this important event with a series of Special Issues and events. To date, the journal has published more than 4000 papers, and the journal website attracts more than 50,000 monthly page views. We would like to express our sincerest thanks to our readers, innumerable authors, anonymous peer reviewers, editors, and all the people working in some way for the journal who have made substantial contributions for years. Without your support, we would never have made it this far.

To mark this significant milestone, a Special Issue entitled “10th Anniversary of Cells—Advances in Organelle Function” is being launched. This Special Issue will collect research articles and high-quality review papers in the Organelle Function research fields. We kindly encourage all research groups working in Organelle Function areas to make contributions to this Special Issue.

Message from the Editorial Board

Cells has become a solid international scientific journal that is now indexed on SCIE and in other databases. We have successfully introduced a special issues format so that these issues serve as mini-forums in specific areas of cell science. Cells encourages researchers to suggest new special issues, serve as special issues editors, and volunteer to be reviewers. Our main focus will remain on cell anatomy and physiology, the structure and function of organelles, cell adhesion and motility, and the regulation of intracellular signaling, growth, differentiation, and aging. We are open to both original research papers and reviews.
