Message from the Guest Editor

Dear Colleagues,

We are celebrating the 10th anniversary of Chemosensors with a Special Issue in the Section “Nanostructures for Chemical Sensing” (IF: 4.229, ISSN 2227-9040) in 2022.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank our readers, innumerable authors, anonymous peer reviewers, editors, and all the people working in some way for the journal who have joined their efforts for years. These highlights would not have been possible without your participation.

To highlight this anniversary, we are leading a Special Issue that will cover various topics related to Nanostructures for Chemical Sensing. The growing advance of nanostructured materials in sensing has increasingly pointed to promising sensors with several applications, spanning the environmental, food, pharmaceutical and clinical analysis fields.

The Special Issue covers a wide range of hot topics related to chemosensors. We invite you to contribute an original research paper or a comprehensive review article on a trendy or hot topic for peer-review and possible publication.

Message from the Editorial Board

Chemosensors continues to grow as a forum for all manners of sensing that encompass chemistry. Chemosensors is published in open access format – all articles and content are released on the internet immediately following acceptance, thus allowing unlimited access to the content as soon as it is published. We would be happy to have you join our growing list of authors.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges \(APC\) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE \(Web of Science\), CAPlus / SciFinder, Inspec, Engineering Village and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q2 (Instruments and Instrumentation) / CiteScore - Q1 (Physical and Theoretical Chemistry)
