Message from the Guest Editor

Dear Colleagues,

The field of pediatric otolaryngology is under constant development. Our aim is to provide the latest clinical knowledge and scientific research, allowing us to excel in our professional growth and expand clinical application.

This Special Issue wishes to highlight the current state of research on the most common ENT disorders in children. Topics of interest include—but are not limited to—adenoid hypertrophy/adenoiditis, rhinosinusitis (acute and chronic), otitis media with effusion, acute otitis media, obstructive sleep apnea, hearing loss, deafness, and speech disorders.

Experts in the field are invited to submit manuscripts on all related topics. Original research papers, case reports, literature reviews, and systematic reviews are welcome.

I look forward to receiving your contributions to this Special Issue, which will provide valuable insight into all aspects of current trends in pediatric otolaryngology.
