Message from the Guest Editors

The Special Issue will target the complex and controversial problem of cutaneous antioxidants. Here, we invite experts to contribute to the coming Special Issue with original research or review papers on the following topics (although the list is not limited by these topics):

- Antioxidant and pro-oxidant properties of ageing or ailing skin
- Redox regulation of skin barrier functions/ role of cosmetic antioxidants
- Biologically relevant systems/methods to determine antioxidant/free radical scavenging/metal chelating properties of potential actives for cosmetic compositions
- Skin photo protection and antioxidants
- Cosmetic preparations to rescue endogenous antioxidants in the skin as a supportive care for chronic inflammatory skin diseases
- Anti-age cosmetic preparations and cosmetology procedures to replenish non-enzymatic antioxidants
- Technologies for preparation anti-age cosmetic compositions with antioxidant properties
- Active ingredients of cosmetic/dermatological preparation to induce endogenous antioxidant enzymes
- Technologies for targeted delivery of direct and indirect antioxidants to definite skin layers
