Message from the Guest Editor

The aim of this Special Issue entitled Insights into Hereditary Gastrointestinal Cancer is to highlight the advances in the diagnosis and management of hereditary gastrointestinal cancer syndromes including those classified as adenomatous polyposis, serrated polyposis, hamartomatous, mixed polyposis, and non-polyposis. We also invite studies on moderate-risk genes associated with gastrointestinal cancer. Original research papers, clinical cases, and reviews are welcome from experts to help inform clinical decision making and patient management.
