Message from the Collection Editor

Dear Colleagues,

As Diversity is a generalist journal, we hereby propose to authors to submit articles outlining the state-of-the-art on some special features concerning animal diversity.

The papers will be presented in the form of articles/reviews that can cover all subdivisions of biodiversity: natural history, evolution, phylogeny, biogeography, conservation, and even revisions of the systematics of related taxa.

They must represent a starting point to further research and be equally accessible to nonbiologists and to specialists in the field.
