Message from the Guest Editors

this Special Issue will invite and collect security/risk detection, analysis, assessment technology, authentication, secure data transmission and privacy preservation technologies related to the smart grid networks.

Potential topics include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Risk analysis and assessment technology in smart grid networks;
- Access to security detection technology for service terminals in smart grid networks;
- Edge equipment security detection technology in smart grid networks;
- Network transmission security detection technology in smart grid networks;
- Security detection tools in smart grid networks;
- New access authentication protocols with privacy preservation for smart grid networks;
- Authentication and privacy protection for smart grid networks;
- Slicing security and privacy protection for smart grid networks;
- End-to-end security for smart grid networks;
- Physical layer security for smart grid networks;
- Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning for smart grid networks.

Welcome to contribute.

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Electronics is a multidisciplinary journal designed to appeal to a diverse audience of research scientists, practitioners, and developers in academia and industry. The journal is devoted to fast publication of latest technological breakthroughs, cutting-edge developments, and timely reviews of current and emerging technologies related to the broad field of electronics. Experimental and theoretical results are published as regular peer-reviewed articles or as articles within Special Issues guest-edited by leading experts in selected topics of interest.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), CAPus / SciFinder, Inspec, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q2 (Physics, Applied) / CiteScore - Q2 (Control and Systems Engineering)
