

Special Issue

Selected Papers from Young Researchers in Energy Systems and Management

Message from the Guest Editors

The main goal of this Special Issue is to offer young researchers an opportunity to share their research results through the MPDI Electronics open access platform, in which they can report their recent achievements in terms of future energy systems, including renewable energy systems, energy management, and energy efficiency. Energy management and efficiency are of prime importance in the current day scenarios. The installation of nearly zero energy building and future towards energy communities/districts and smart cities make it more important. The topics included in this Special Issue are renewable energy systems, renewable energy integration, electric vehicles, smart grids, energy flexibility, energy management, nearly zero energy buildings, energy communities, and smart cities.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Electronics is a multidisciplinary journal designed to appeal to a diverse audience of research scientists, practitioners, and developers in academia and industry. The journal is devoted to fast publication of latest technological breakthroughs, cutting-edge developments, and timely reviews of current and emerging technologies related to the broad field of electronics. Experimental and theoretical results are published as regular peer-reviewed articles or as articles within Special Issues guest-edited by leading experts in selected topics of interest.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), CAPlus / SciFinder, Inspec, Ei Compendex and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q2 (Physics, Applied) / CiteScore - Q2 (Control and Systems Engineering)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 16.4 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.4 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the second half of 2024).
