Message from the Guest Editors

The aims and topics of this Energies Special Issue on “Advanced Research on High-Energy Performance Compressors” cover all cutting-edge studies on various compressors in different applications, including refrigeration fields, heat pumps, nature gas fields, gas gathering and transportations, hydrogen utilization, oil and gas exploitation, etc.

The following topics, among others, are included in this issue:

- Numerical simulation and experiments in compressors;
- High-pressure hydrogen compressors for hydrogen refueling stations;
- Large compressors for gas storage and transportation;
- Carbon dioxide compressors for new energy vehicles;
- High-performance compressors for fuel cell vehicles;
- Energy saving technologies and applications on compressors;
- Intelligent fault diagnosis system and noise control methods for compressors.

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Energies is an international, open access journal in energy engineering and research. The journal publishes original papers, review articles, technical notes, and letters. Authors are encouraged to submit manuscripts which bridge the gaps between research, development and implementation. The journal provides a forum for information on research, innovation, and demonstration in the areas of energy conversion and conservation, the optimal use of energy resources, optimization of energy processes, mitigation of environmental pollutants, and sustainable energy systems.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), Ei Compendex, RePEc, Inspec, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank: CiteScore - Q1 (Control and Optimization)
