Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

The topics of interest in this Special Issue include the efficient implementation of ESSs for intelligent and flexible energy management strategies (EMSs) concerning dynamic heterogeneous complex systems; the aging, maintenance, and operability of ESSs; model-based optimization methods for the siting, sizing, and selection of ESSs while incorporating market prices and operating parameters; and model predictive EMSs.

- energy storage systems
- electrical, chemical, thermochemical storage
- energy management strategies
- modeling and control
- model predictive optimization
- lifetime and aging of ESSs
- micro/smart grids
- renewable generation

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Energies is an international, open access journal in energy engineering and research. The journal publishes original papers, review articles, technical notes, and letters. Authors are encouraged to submit manuscripts which bridge the gaps between research, development and implementation. The journal provides a forum for information on research, innovation, and demonstration in the areas of energy conversion and conservation, the optimal use of energy resources, optimization of energy processes, mitigation of environmental pollutants, and sustainable energy systems.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), Ei Compendex, RePEc, Inspec, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank: CiteScore - Q1 (Control and Optimization)
