Message from the Guest Editor

Dear Colleagues,

The Guest Editor is inviting submissions to a Special Issue of Energies on the subject area of "Hydrothermal Processing for Valorization of Wet Biomass". Hydrothermal processing (hydrothermal carbonization or subcritical water extraction) has been considered a green option for either recovering energy from wet biomass or producing high value bioproducts. There has been emerging scientific advancement towards the development of continuous hydrothermal processing systems and utilization of byproducts (hydrochar and extracts/process water) for energy, fertilizer, chemical, and material applications. The process is also being investigated for extracting high-value chemicals from biomass sources for medicinal application.

Energies is an international, open access journal in energy engineering and research. The journal publishes original papers, review articles, technical notes, and letters. Authors are encouraged to submit manuscripts which bridge the gaps between research, development and implementation. The journal provides a forum for information on research, innovation, and demonstration in the areas of energy conversion and conservation, the optimal use of energy resources, optimization of energy processes, mitigation of environmental pollutants, and sustainable energy systems.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), Ei Compendex, RePEc, Inspec, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank: CiteScore - Q1 (Control and Optimization)
