Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue is focused on the most recent developments in econophysics, aiming to generate new questions, create a forum for discussions and presentations in conferences, and inspire new projects related to the use of statistical physics methods in finance, within the realm of complex systems. Besides the models, emphasis is given to the use of real data, especially “big data” in economics.

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The concept of entropy is traditionally a quantity in physics that has to do with temperature. However, it is now clear that entropy is deeply related to information theory and the process of inference. As such, entropic techniques have found broad application in the sciences.

Entropy is an online open access journal providing an advanced forum for the development and/or application of entropic and information-theoretic studies in a wide variety of applications. Entropy is inviting innovative and insightful contributions. Please consider Entropy as an exceptional home for your manuscript.
