Message from the Guest Editor

It is a great pleasure to introduce the Special Issue of Foods, entitled “Encapsulation and implementation of bioactive compounds in the production of functional food products.”

This Special Issue aims to highlight current progress in the development of new encapsulation-based delivery systems with a particular attention to the implementation of new technologies and new materials, as well as to the encapsulation of functional ingredients originating from agro-industrial wastes as a part of sustainable food production. The challenge consists in adopting the micro/nano-capsules containing active ingredients with a maximum of functionality to the whole food matrix. Therefore, innovative applications and an overall multidisciplinary approach to the topic are warmly welcomed.

The Special Issue is now open for submissions and you are cordially invited to submit review articles and original research papers.
