Message from the Guest Editors

We kindly invite you to submit your contributions to the Special Issue entitled “Fruit and Vegetable by-products: Processing, Bioactivities and Application”. This special issue aims to cover the most recent advances in the field of by-products valorization, from experimental design, conception and characterization to its application in a variety of food-related industries through the whole food supply chain, including nutraceuticals (supplements), as well as the application of resulting products into pharmaceutical and cosmetic industries. Topics concerning the potential toxicity of processes upon contact to food matrices (consumer safety and health), the bioaccessibility and bioavailability of fruit and vegetables by-products when incorporated in food, nutraceuticals, pharmaceuticals during gastrointestinal digestion, as well as the addition of ingredients resulting from by-products extraction in cosmetics are also very welcome. Up-to-date original research and reviews on these topics are welcome, and we look forward to receiving your interesting work.
