Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue aims to provide novel preservation approaches to control spoilage microorganisms in seafood and insight into the biodiversity of spoilage microbiota. Studies that include the methods that examine the total impact on seafood quality and shelf life are of high interest. Insight into mechanisms related to the production of microbiological spoilage metabolites can also be addressed.

New insight into contamination routes of seafood spoilage microorganisms, hygiene practices in seafood value chains, and novel strategies for traceability and quality monitoring throughout the value chain is welcomed.

This Special Issue welcomes original research articles and reviews related to this topic.

Foods (ISSN 2304-8158) is an open access and peer reviewed scientific journal that publishes original articles, critical reviews, case reports, and short communications on food science. Articles are released monthly online, with unlimited free access. Currently, Foods has been indexed by the Science Citation Index Expanded (SCIE - Web of Science), PubMed, and Scopus. Our aim is to encourage scientists, researchers, and other food professionals to publish their experimental and theoretical results as much detail as possible. We therefore invite you to be one of our authors, and in doing so share your important research findings with the global food science community.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges \(APC\) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE \(Web of Science\), PubMed, PMC, FSTA, AGRIS, PubAg, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q1 (Food Science and Technology) / CiteScore - Q1 (Health Professions (miscellaneous))
