Message from the Guest Editor

Dear Colleagues,

Due to the prevalence of celiac disease/wheat allergy and changing lifestyle, the demand for gluten-free foods is expanding. One of the major challenges is to develop high-quality food products that meet the demands of consumers. This Special Issue covers a broad spectrum of information about the effort to develop high-quality gluten-free foods. The research area includes not only new processing technology but also ingenuity in manufacturing facility/logistics, the latest market research as well as modern communication tools with celiac patients. We welcome relevant reports from both academics and industry researchers.

Foods (ISSN 2304-8158) is an open access and peer reviewed scientific journal that publishes original articles, critical reviews, case reports, and short communications on food science. Articles are released monthly online, with unlimited free access. Currently, Foods has been indexed by the Science Citation Index Expanded (SCIE - Web of Science), PubMed, and Scopus. Our aim is to encourage scientists, researchers, and other food professionals to publish their experimental and theoretical results as much detail as possible. We therefore invite you to be one of our authors, and in doing so share your important research findings with the global food science community.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges \(APC\) paid by authors or their institutions.
