Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue will focus on the recent technologies and requirements for tree seeds regarding the internal and external environment, as well as the potential influence of climate change on tree seeds. Changes in seed behaviour to improve resilience to climate change include but are not limited to:

- Antioxidative enzyme activity in tree seeds;
- Germination conditions of seeds of different tree species;
- Environment required for tree seed storage;
- Factors affecting tree seed aging;
- The process and mechanism of tree seed dormancy;
- Somatic embryogenesis (SE) of trees;
- Adaptive evolution and epigenetics in tree seeds, etc.

Forests (ISSN 1999-4907) is an international and cross-disciplinary, scholarly forestry journal. The distinguished editorial board and refereeing process ensures the highest degree of scientific rigor and review of all published articles. Original research articles and timely reviews are released online, with unlimited free access.

Our goal is to have Forests be recognized as one of the foremost publication outlets for high quality, leading edge research in this broad and diverse field. We therefore invite you to be one of our authors, and in doing so share your important research findings with the global forestry community.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), Ei Compendex, GEOBASE, PubAg, AGRIS, PaperChem, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q2 (Forestry) / CiteScore - Q1 (Forestry)
