

an Open Access Journal by MDPI

q-Fractional Calculus/Differential Equations and Related Applications

Guest Editors:

Dr. Jung Yoog Kang

Department of Mathematics
Education, Silla University, Busan
46958, Republic of Korea

Prof. Dr. Cheon-Seoung Ryoo

Department of Mathematics,
Hannam University, Daejeon
34430, Republic of Korea

Deadline for manuscript
submissions:

closed (15 May 2024)

Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

Fractional differential equations, including quantum numbers, refer to the field of mathematics that finds applicability by modeling and designing concepts primarily employed in chemistry, mechanics, physics, and engineering. In addition, q-fractional difference calculus provides novel concepts by combining theories related to quantum numbers with the theory of classical calculus. Furthermore, q-calculus has further utility in quantum mechanics, where it maintains close relationships with commutativity relations and Lie algebras.

The aim of this Special Issue is present an overview of advanced research on quantum fractional differential equations, difference equations and computation, and improvements, extensions and generalizations to classical mathematical analysis, as well as related topics and applications.

There are some keywords for this Special Issue:

foundations of fractional analysis;
fractional-order derivatives and integrals;
fractional transforms;
special functions; quantum calculus;
linear and nonlinear fractional analysis;
q-fractional differential equations;
fractional partial differential equations;
fractional continuous models.

mdpi.com/si/191241

Special Issue