future internet

Dear Colleagues,

As the Editor-in-Chief of Future Internet, I am pleased to announce the winners of the Future Internet 2019 Travel Award on behalf of the Evaluation Committee:

Dr. Ana Lucila Sandoval Orozco is a Post-doctoral researcher at the Universidad Complutense de Madrid. Her research is focused on the growing area of multimedia forensics, more specific on the analysis of detecting forgery over images and video files. She is planning to present her work "Pornography Detection in Videos: A review" at the 4th IEEE European Symposium on Security and Privacy, which will be held in Stockholm, Sweden on 17-19 July 2019. The award consists of 400 Swiss Francs towards attending this conference.

Dr. Matteo Zignani is a Post-doctoral researcher at University of Milan. His research is focused on the understanding of the evolution of socio-technological systems, such as online social networks, distributed online social networks and mobile phone call networks. He is planning to present his work "Mastodon Content Warnings: Inappropriate Contents in a Microblogging Platform" at the 13th International AAAI Conference on Web and Social Media (ICWSM-2019), which will be held in Munich, German on 11-14 June 2019. The award consists of 400 Swiss Francs towards attending this conference.

It was a tough decision, given the exceptional quality of applications for the award, and on behalf of the award committee, I wish to thank all applicants and to congratulate Dr. Ana Lucila Sandoval Orozco and Dr. Matteo Zignani for their accomplishments.

Prof. Dr. Dino Giuli,
Editor-in- Chief of Future Internet

Future Internet (ISSN 1999-5903) is a scholarly peer-reviewed open access journal on Internet technologies and the information society, published monthly online by MDPI.

Please find more information on Future Internet here:
www.mdpi.com/journal/futureinternet