Dear Colleagues,

All applications for the Games 2020 Travel Awards were evaluated and ranked by the Evaluation Committee. On behalf of the Editors-in-Chief of Games, Prof. Dr. Ulrich Berger, we are pleased to announce the following winners:

Ms. Lamprini Zarpala, Department of Banking and Financial Management, University of Piraeus, Greece. Her current research centers on auctions, market design, and corporate finance.

Ms. Barbara Franci, PhD, Delft Center for Systems and Control, Delft University of Technology, Netherlands. Her current research centers on stochastic generalized Nash equilibrium problems and variational inequalities, leveraging on monotone and fixed-point operator theory.

2020 TRAVEL AWARD WINNERS

We congratulate them on their excellent work and would further like to thank all applicants for their interesting and high-quality contributions. We also wish to thank the Evaluation Committee members for their evaluation of the candidates.
