Message from the Guest Editor

We invite contributions that explore various aspects of immigrant family life, including but not limited to the following:

- The historical analyses of immigrant family trajectories and migration patterns;
- Intergenerational relationships within immigrant families and their evolution over family arrangements and collaborations over time;
- Transnational family practices and their impacts on family members' wellbeing, identity formation, and cultural preservation;
- The role of education, lifestyle choice, religion, language, and cultural heritage in shaping immigrant family experiences;
- Immigration and emigration policy implications and interventions aimed at supporting or hindering immigrant families' unification, overall family wellbeing, and integration into the host societies;
- Intersectional perspectives on gender, race, class, and sexuality within immigrant family contexts.

Message from the Editorial Board

Genealogy is a scholarly journal that provides a venue for academic, cutting-edge contributions to the interdisciplinary field of genealogy studies. We welcome contributions that examine genealogies of family lineage, use genealogical considerations and methods in examining other historical processes (including migration histories, personal, social, and national identities, and social institutions) or study the construction of genealogical narratives. The journal is also interested in biographical studies and their contribution to the understanding of broader social and historical phenomena.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, ESCI (Web of Science), and many other databases.

Rapid Publication: manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 25.1 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 4.9 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the second half of 2025).
