Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

Focus:

The aim of this Genealogy Special Issue is to critically reflect on storytelling from, with, and for alternative (life)worlds and to create a space in which these stories can gather. We are looking for critically engaged scholarship and research from Indigenous peoples, with Indigenous communities, and/or for liberated Indigenous ecologies/worlds that theoretically or empirically contribute to the theme of Storytelling Indigenous (Life)Worlds. More specifically, we invite scholarship that engages with storytelling related to Indigenous ways of knowing, being, and doing in critically reflexive and productive ways that serve to disrupt or unsettle settler/colonial narratives and worlding practices and provide stories that compose more livable worlds.

Scope:

Message from the Editorial Board

Genealogy is a scholarly journal that provides a venue for academic, cutting-edge contributions to the interdisciplinary field of genealogy studies. We welcome contributions that examine genealogies of family lineage, use genealogical considerations and methods in examining other historical processes (including migration histories, personal, social, and national identities, and social institutions) or study the construction of genealogical narratives. The journal is also interested in biographical studies and their contribution to the understanding of broader social and historical phenomena.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, ESCI (Web of Science), and many other databases.

Rapid Publication: manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 25.1 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 4.9 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the second half of 2025).
